CITY WORKERS HIT PERSONNEL BOARD FOR MORE

On Jan. 24, the Daly City Personnel Board will begin a series of study sessions to consider the subject of wage increases. Requests from the employees' union, the fire department, the police department, the finance director, the public works department and the library commission have been received and each will be considered at a separate session.

"We will investigate these requests and decide on the merits of each case whether or not the increases are justified," said board chairman Melford Battye. "Our recommendations are then submitted to the city council and the council makes the final decision."

In the past, said Battye, the council has usually gone along with the board's recommendations.

From the fire and police associations come requests to raise the salaries of line policemen and firemen (currently $483-$561 per month). From the fire chief and police chief come requests to raise the salaries of the officers (currently a battalion fire chief gets $587-$682; fire captain, $533-$617; police lieutenant, $561-$648; and police captain, $617-$716.)

The finance director has asked that Daly City meter readers be granted an increase from present range of $399-$461. The public works department has asked for wage increases and premium pay, and the library commission has requested an increase for the head librarian from the current $587-$682.

The union, the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, Local Council No. 57, has asked for an increase for the 70 city workers it represents. (The union represents 70 out of Daly City's 180 full time employees.)

Requests for wage increases are usually considered by the board the first of each new year. Last year the board granted an across the board wage increase of 2½ per cent in June, and recommended another of 2½ per cent that the city council will consider this month. Thus, if the council approves the January increase and the board recommends a new increase, the total for the two year period could amount to 7¼ per cent.

"We've always paid top salaries," said Battye. It remains to be seen whether these are justifiable or not."

The union does not have a contract with the city, and as with federal and state governments, it can not strike. "We negotiate," said Battye. "Negotiation is going to be very important because the union has asked for considerable."

Asked whether he thought the wage increases were justified, Assistant City Manager Phillip J. Brown said: "Un-

Wild Ride Down Edgemar Injures Pacifica Housewife

The accelerator stuck, the brakes burned out, and the car went screaming down the steep Edgemar freeway carrying Pacifica housewife Mrs. Diane Gallagher and her sleeping three year old son.

During the course of the harrowing four mile plunge, Mrs. Gallagher's car struck a pickup truck, careened off another auto, and finally bounced completely out of control into a fence at the bottom of the hill Monday, Jan. 15.

Mrs. Gallagher, 24, 331 Manor drive, and her son, Francis, survived the ordeal, receiving only a few minor cuts and bruises, for which they were treated at Peninsula hospital. The drivers of the two vehicles struck enroute were treated for minor injuries.

According to highway patrolmen soon at the scene, the Gallagher car brakes burned out as she tried vainly to halt the runaway car.

Mrs. Gallagher said the accelerator stuck just as she turned off Alemany boulevard and onto Skyline. She pulled over to the side of the road to try to pull the pedal up—but it broke. The accelerator remained glued to the floor as the car picked up speed and headed for the big hill.

She could have turned the ignition off to cut the engine, but—

"I was too scared to think of some of the things I should have thought of," she said, "All I could think about was steering the car and blowing the horn."

As the car picked up speed, she thought of ramming it into the bank but . . . "I was afraid the car would roll over and hurt my little boy."

Francis had bounced off the front seat and was thrown under the dashboard where he started to cry. Mrs. Gallagher told him to stay there, thinking he would be safer than on the seat.

Shortly after the turn into Edgemar freeway, the brakes gave out completely. The machine's speed increased to 70 mph as she roared past startled motorists, horn blasting the cry of her plight.

She avoided all the cars until the odds ran out and she ripped into the rear of a pickup driven by Charles A. Coe, 26, 519 Johnson avenue, Pacifica. Ricocheting off Coe's truck, the car continued to careen down and into an auto driven by R. C. Cords, 35, 767 Moana way, Pacifica. From there it went into the fence at the hill's bottom.

Mrs. Gallagher suffered a cut on her nose that required three stitches. The boy had a bruised forehead. They were sent home after treatment at Peninsula hospital.

Group Starts Program For Students' Travel

Want to send a local youngster to live abroad for a year?

Or how about bringing a boy or girl from overseas to live with a local family while he attends a school in the Jefferson district?

The opportunity to do either or both is now available. At Westmoor High school last week, the first local chapter of the American Field Service was set up to organize such exchanges in the Jefferson High School District.

City-County Road Study Is Underway

Daly City Engineer William Chapman has been appointed to a committee to supervise a city-county road survey, part of which is a proposed Market street extension through Colma to the Bayshore Highway.

The study is preliminary to a proposed county-wide bond issue for the rebuilding of all major county roads. The county and the cities are cooperating in the financing of a general engineering study. Daly City's share is $7,000. Contract for the engineering has been awarded to George S. Nolte, Civil Engineers, Inc. Stanford Research Institute will prepare the economic research. Traffic studies will be by traffic expert Dr. D. Jackson Faustman, and financial studies by Stone and Youngberg.

Total cost of the engineering is $179,700.

Part of the survey will entail an origin-destination study, to find out where motorists are going and coming from. The road system is supposed to be good until the year 1968, Engineer Chapman said.

After the study is completed there will be an attempt on the part of the county to have a county-wide bond issue for implementation of the recommended roads. The county will pay half the cost of engineering studies and cities will pay half on the basis of population.

The studies will also include: 1—Future patterns of county growth. 2—Development of raw lands 3—Establishment of future traffic desires. 4—Determination of capabilities of the existing county and state highway network.

Against The Common Market

"U. S. SENATOR" Al Turriciano of Jefferson High School (standing, center) makes stirring speech against the common market at Model Senate meeting Jan. 12 in the War Memorial Center building. The two-day affair was sponsored by the Social Studies department. Miss Mary Ann Holden, Westmoor High School teacher, was presiding officer.

HS Youths Gain Insight Into Political Problems

by JACK WOOD

It's not easy to pass a law in the U. S. Senate.

Social studies students from Jefferson High School found this out last week at the War Memorial building as they wrangled and debated over everything from condemnation of Nehru to admitting Red China into the U. N.

Each party had a good go at the other. But the Republicans were, of course, heavily outweighed in numbers by the Democrats, as in the real senate. There were 64 Demos and 36 GOP members.

The students were supposed to represent the actual senator's viewpoints. In fact, one girl seemed to be faking a southern accent when discussing a bill.

There was a health, education and welfare committee, a committee on foreign affairs, a commerce committee and a judiciary committee.

The Republicans passed a "Federal Right To Work" law, but the "Demos" wanted a recount on the vote. This kept both parties wide awake.

Democrats were pushing a bill to provide $700 million dollars in federal funds for fallout shelters. Each party wrote a platform. Bill Baird, as senator Mansfield of Montana, was the Senate Majority Leader. George Sakaldasis, was Senator Everett Dirksen from Indiana, the Republican minority leader.

Much seemed to be accomplished in the waning hours as the assembly fought to a close on Friday, and Chairman Mary Ann Holden, instructor from Westmoor, shouted "We're overtime on this bill!"

As social studies instructor Frank King put it: "They get a feeling of the complexity of what has gone into a coalition—with southern Democrats often lining up with the Republican right wing for votes."

The Republicans came up with a surprise bill for condemnation of Prime Minister Nehru for India's attack on Goa.

Senate Bill No. 1 to make the U. S. drop out of the United Nations if Red China were admitted, was defeated.

From the many, many debates on the floor and the interest shown, the students seemed to feel they were really in and experiencing something vital and important.

What they learned was a vital lesson in practical civics.

'OPERATION HELP' DRIVE IS CLOSING

California has known a time what most of its people lived on the frontier and survived only by helping each other.

Today, though most "helping out" is done through vast impersonal organizations, the old simple man-to-man gestures are still possible.

A Daly City policeman named John Coleman found this out after his home at 121 Hillside boulevard was struck by fire Dec. 18.

To make up for the loss of furniture and personal affects not covered by insurance, the community "Operation Help" campaign was started.

The people of Daly City didn't think that what they were doing was charity. They thought of it as help and expected that John Coleman would do the same for them if and when their turn ever came.

Over $1,000 in contrubutions have been sent to "Operation Help" to Box 4 at the Daly City Post Office.

The drive will soon close, according to chairman Peter Markovich, and contributions will still be accepted. Treasurer of the drive is Louis Pisani, manager of the Bank of America branch office in Daly City.

John Coleman has been a police officer in Daly City 14 years. He was an organizer of the Police Athletic League and has been active in youth work.

Luckily, he was at work and Mrs. Coleman and the couple's four children were Christmas shopping at the time of the blaze. The fire started in the living room gutted the room and continued through the hallway and bedrooms. Sheet rock walls kept the fire from spreading through partititions and onto adjoining buildings. Damage was estimated at about $8,000. Since the fire the Colemans have stayed at the residence of parent in-laws. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Leake, Daly City.

Benjamin Franklin School Building Program Complete

The month of January, 1962, has seen the completion of a building program at Benjamin Franklin Intermediate School which was begun more than two years ago when the new music building was added.

The latest addition to the school has been the installation of lockers for the more than a thousand seventh and eighth grade students now at the school. Rows of lockers for storage of books and clothing have been completed outside of classrooms with built-in combination locks, taking the place of the old desk-storage system in the classrooms. Altogether, 1,104 lockers were installed—which leaves room for future enrollment growth of about 100 students.

Physical education students may now dress in gym clothes for PE instruction and take showers at the end of the class period. The students have indicated overwhelming approval and enjoyment of the new system and facilities. Lockers have also been provided in the dressing rooms with the combination locks for the storage of street clothing while out on the fields.

The final touch to the program was the entire repainting of the school plant, which was completed during the Christmas vacation and the following week. Principal Herbst of Benjamin Franklin School has expressed his complete satisfaction with the appearance of the school plant and is joined by the staff and students in welcoming the improvements to the school.

10-MONTH SEARCH FOR YOUTH ENDS

A 10-month search for 14-year-old Randy Cobb, 163 Mariposa drive, Daly City, ended Sunday, Jan. 7, in a strangely modern fashion . . . he flew home to meet his parents.

Randy left home last March 20 and hitch hiked to Arkansas where he worked in a gas station for his room and board, police said. He went under the name of Billy Williams.

The boy was 13 years old and was five feet three inches tall when he left, police said. He is now five feet seven inches in height.

Police Lieutenant David Hansen said Daly City police had contacted 353 different police departments in 49 states and "a lot of newspapers" to find Randy, to no avail.

At one time local officers had searched area hills on a report that the boy was in the locale. Officers had compiled 52 pages of reports on the youth and had believed he was in Kansas after his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cobb, received a letter from the boy postmarked in Kansas. However, the youth had been staying in Ozark, Arkansas, police reported.

Officers said the boy left home because of personal problems with his family. But he now intends to enter the freshman class at Westmoor High School, officers related.

Paper Boy Heroes To Be Honored

Community pride and interest has been shown in two Daly City boys credited with saving a Westlake family from flaming disaster when they awoke them from sleep to tell them their house was on fire.

Rando Starbo, 13, of 141 Avalon drive and Robert Langer, 166 Palisades drive, will receive savings bonds awards on Thursday at noon at a general membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at Val's Restaurant.

The boys were on their early morning paper routes when they thought they saw a light burning in the home of Allen Foster, 88 Skyline drive.

They pounded and pounded on the front door a full five minutes before they could arouse Foster, 37, manager of the Petrini Plaza market; his wife, Gloria, 36, and son, Robert, 15.

The fire started when Mrs. Foster forgot to blow out a Christmas decoration on the coffee table.

Both youths are students at Benjamin Franklin School.

The North San Mateo County Insurance Association will present each of the boys with a $25 savings bond. Mrs. Foster will also present the boys a bond each during the program.

Each of the youths received Junior Fire Marshal training in school as required course in conjunction with local fire departments.

Four Hurt In Police Car Crash

The second traffic accident in a week involving a police vehicle occurred Monday, Jan. 15 in Daly City, when cars driven by housewife, Mrs. Ora W. Swanson, 47, of 837 Higate, Daly City and police officer Thomas O. Donohue, 22, 261 Price street, collided on Lake Merced boulevard in the Westlake Shopping Center.

Treated for minor cuts and bruises at Junipero Serra Hospital were Mrs. Swanson and three of her daughters, Nancy, 12, Bonnie Jean, 8, and Theresa.

Officers said that Donohue was backing out of a parking space when his car was struck in the left rear fender by Mrs. Swanson's car. She told police she didn't see the car back out from the parking space.

Officers noted there was also a possibility that officer Donahue didn't see the woman's car when backing from the parking space and was blinded from the

'Mechanics' Arrested With 'Hot Motor'

A plumber and two of his "mechanic" partners in crime who assertedly conspired to junk a car, drop the motor in another auto and report the car stolen to get the insurance money were arrested Jan. 5 by Daly City police.

Edward DeDaney, 22, a mechanic, of 7011 Mission street, was arrested in a Daly City garage as he was allegedly putting the "hot" motor into another vehicle.

Investigation by officer Ralph Warren implicated Robert M. Marsili, 30, of 243 Abbott avenue.

Officers said the two men stripped the motor out in Daly City, and wrecked the car with a knife and hammer.

DC Blood Bank Day Set For January 19

FIRST BLOOD DRAWN—Mayor Bob St. Clair, along with (l. to r.) Lee Brillhard, Bob Lehman and Joe Verducci, indicate the proper attitude to show for the annual Daly City Blood Bank Day set for January 19. The bloodmobile will be located at the Westlake School at 80 Fieldcrest, between Westlawn and Lake Vista. Bloodletting starts at 3 p.m. and continues until 7.

The annual Daly City Blood Bank Day has been scheduled for January 19 and the Rotary Club of Daly City is soliciting the active support of your organization for this worthwhile community activity. The Rotary Club will act as coordinator only and your organization may operate independently if you desire. Our only concern is to assist in making this drive a success.

Students' Travel

The idea of a local chapter was conceived by Hartley R. Appleton, local resident and attorney for the Westlake Improvement Association. Interested community leaders, parents, teachers, and students were contacted and the local unit was born.

"It was an inspired and wonderful meeting," said Appleton. "We had representatives from Congregation Judea, Lions, the PTA and the faculty and students. And Mrs. Cottenham who is an advisor for the North San Mateo County chapter brought two students already in the AFS program—one from South Africa and one from Norway. The kids swarmed around them like flies."

Elected as officers for the new chapter were Rev. Herbert Tweedie, president; Appleton, financial secretary, Paul Zimmerman, faculty liaison; Mark Clark, student representative and Mario Ciampi, Americans Abroad coordinator. Mrs. Cottenham is the advisor and Mrs. Vincent Cullinan of Hillsborough is the volunteer area chairman.

The American Field Service is a voluntary, self-supporting non-profit organization that was originally founded in 1915 as a volunteer ambulance corps to serve with the American Expeditionary forces in Europe. The AFS peacetime program of international exchange was founded in 1947. AFS has two separate programs — one for bringing foreign students to American schools, and another to send American students abroad. Since 1947, 10,793 students have come to the U. S. to study their senior year in American schools.

The Americans Aboard program, started in 1957, has sent 545 American students abroad for both summer study and the regular one year program.

The cost for a student is $650. And it is the job of the local chapter to raise this amount from volunteer sources in the community.

Tentative plans are to have the first student visit here next fall. First the money must be raised and the home arranged. The first American representative overseas is scheduled for the summer of 1963.

If interested contact Appleton at Ex 7-0077.

Passenger cars account for more than 80 per cent of all motor vehicle miles traveled in the United States, according to the National Automobile Club.

Jeff District School Workers Elect Officers

Frank Teeter was elected president of the Jefferson School District Chapter No. 233 of the California School Employees' Association. This chapter is comprised solely of classified school employees who work in the various elementary schools and in the district office.

Other officers chosen by the group are: Steve Passafiume, vice president; Mrs. Helen Korolkoff, secretary; Mrs. Miriam Davis, treasurer; Mrs. June Braden, auditor; Ralph Bright, sergeant-at-arms.

The California School Employees' Association (CSEA) is a professional educational association of over 20,000 members, with chapters in school districts throughout California.

To this organization belong the "classified" school employees who work as secretaries, custodians, bus drivers; or in other classifications of clerical and maintenance services — plus the employees in the school cafeterias.

Through CSEA, the classified school employees initiate and participate in various educational programs aimed at increasing their job efficiency; raising standards of service to the schools and the community, as well as promoting employees' welfare, and to establishing and maintaining a spirit of friendly co-operation with the boards of education.

Motor Officer Hurt In Skid On Pavement

A patch of slick oil on the pavement caused Motorcycle Patrolman Richard Simpson Phillips, 34, 291 Fairlawn avenue, to suffer a wrenched knee Jan. 6 when his motorcycle skidded out from under him on Junipero Serra boulevard as he sped to chase a speeder.

He was given emergency treatment at Junipero Serra Hospital and sent home.

In value of products shipped, California has the second largest prepared animal feed industry in the United States.

Bay Area Big Brother Cited

For his outstanding service to youth, Robert E. Smice, products representative for U. S. Steel Corporation, has been named the San Francisco Bay Area's Big Brother of the Year for 1961.

Presentation of the award, as a part of the National Big Brothers Week observence, January 7 through 13, was made at a luncheon meeting today by Judge Melvyn I. Cronin, 1960 Big Brother of the Year, and a member of the Big Brothers honorary Board of Directors.

Judge Cronin noted Smice's initiative, courage, dedication and untiring effort in behalf of the youth of the Bay area. The selection was made by a committee headed by Philip S. Ehrlich, Dr. John P. Beale, Jr., State Senator Eugene McAteer, and Henry Morris.

Smice has long been identified with community and civic projects. For the past seven years he has been active in the United Crusade, where this year he served as chairman of the group solicitation business division. He has won recognition as one of the most active and vigorous workers of the Mission Neighborhood Centers where he has aided the development of a youth program for the young in the Mission area.

Currently, he is serving as chairman of the Golden Gate Neighborhood House Association's juvenile delinquency prevention committee, and as a member of the executive committee of the Jefferson High School Tax group.

He has been closely identified with the Big Brothers movement, not only serving as a volunteer working with two young brothers, but also as a member of the Board of Directors where he is chairman of the screening committee, and also as an active member of the personnel and professional practices committee. He also has served the San Francisco Junior Achievement organization for the past three years as a member of the judging committee, and prior to that as a sales advisor to some JA companies for five years.

Big Brothers, Inc., of the San Francisco Bay Area, is the local chapter of the national organization of mature men who serve as "Big Brothers" to boys who lack the guidance of a father. Currently, the local chapter is conducting a membership drive to enroll additional volunteers. Men interested in further information may write Big Brothers, Inc., at 101 Broadway, or telephone YUkon 1-3304 in San Francisco.

BIG BROTHERS — Robert E. Smice (right), Bay Area Big Brother of the Year, receives congratulations from Judge Melvyn I. Cronin (left), last year's recipient of this award. Looking on is Shirley Gehrke, field social worker who heads the Big Brothers' new chapter in San Mateo County. The award is for outstanding service to youth.

New Voting Machine Approved For Use

The State Commission on Voting Machines and Vote Tabulating Devices has given unqualified approval to a new California model of the Shoup voting machine designed specifically for California election requirements.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan, who serves as secretary of the state commission, gave official approval following a comprehensive engineering examination of the new model conducted for the state by the Sigma Corporation of Los Altos, Calif.

The machine features a vertical ballot, identical in arrangement with the California paper ballot and has space for 280 ballot positions for candidates and issues.

Upon closing of the polls, vote totals are available instantaneously on counters directly under the names of the candidates or issues — requiring no complicated coding or matching of names and totals for the election board to certify the results.

Frank P. Stone, president of the Shoup company, announced that the new model will be demonstrated at the annual convention of the County Clerks Association of California at the El Cortez Hotel in San Diego on Jan. 24, 25 and 26.

Stone said many counties are now actively interested in mechanization of their voting procedures in view of California's tremendous population growth and the state's widely publicized "long count" in the 1960 presidential election. He commented that all of the California counties which have purchased voting machines in recent years — San Mateo, San Luis Obispo and Imperial — have selected the Shoup machine, which has been approved for use in California since 1947.

Fitzgerald Hits Feud Between Sheriff and DA

The public duel that has been running between county Sheriff Earl Whitmore and District Attorney Keith Sorenson has now drawn the attention of the board of supervisors.

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald has called the situation ". . . somewhat embarrassing," and one that . . . "shouldn't exist."

"There seems to me to be an area of misunderstanding between the sheriff and district attorney," he stated. "If there is anything the board can do to define their lines of authority, it should be done."

The differences stem from Whitmore's disagreement with the policy of banning cardrooms and pinball machines in unincorporated areas of the county. Sorenson advocated and actively supports the bans.

Fitzgerald declared he wants "no more monkey business" on the subject.

Whitmore was present at the board's meeting last week to explain his views on the subject.

License Taxes Coming Back To Cities, Counties

Revenue from state motor vehicle license fees amounting to $7,886,243 has been apportioned among California's cities and counties, State Controller Alan Cranston reported.

The apportionment, representing revenue from the fees collected between June 1 and Nov. 30 of 1961, is the first and smallest of three apportionments to be made in the 1961 1962 fiscal year. Larger apportionments will be made in April and June.

Cranston noted that there is no state restriction on the expenditure of the money, and cities and counties may use it for general purposes.

All but a minor portion of the license fees (sometimes known as "in lieu" taxes) goes to local governments, Cranston said, because the tax takes the place of a local property tax on motor vehicles. Deductions are made from the total collections to cover interest charges on highway bonds and for support of the Dearment of Motor Vehicles' license fee division.

The fees are allocated on the basis of a population formula which in this instance allowed slightly less than 34 cents per capita for cities and slightly more than 25 cents per capita for counties.

In accordance with state law, the counties' shares were based on April 1, 1960, census figures while cities' shares were based on the census figures as adjusted to reflect incorporations, annexations and special censuses.

Palm Trees 'Raison d'Etre' Is Presented

Editor:

I feel compelled to answer the letter written last week by Mrs. Capaci, because there may be others who feel as she does, and if so, the following information may be helpful. Bypassing the controversy of removal of palm trees or legality involved, it is justifiable to point out these few facts:

1—Considerable funds (owner's) were spent on trees and therefore considerable research went into selecting the "right kind."

2—The "right kind" of tree had to fit these qualifications: Slow growing (so as to develop with other landscaping). Non-deciduous to eliminate the cleanup of leaves. Adaptable to this soil, for survival. Not too deep a root structure, to interfere or draw sustenance from grass or plantings.

It had to be disease and pest resistant, hardy and wind resistant to withstand climatical extremes. Little or no pruning or shaping, and requiring little water.

A tree with luxuriant leaves was ruled out because of its propensity to hold moisture so long that even in sunny weather it would drip. Also nothing would grow under it.

This is a pretty big bill.

These are a few of the practical reasons I believe the palm was chosen, but the much maligned palm has all the esthetical qualities, too. It is a sym-

Hibernating expert explains:

Why it's more costly to be cozy right now!

Now that the hibernating season is here, the bear fact is that you spend more time indoors. Longer nights, darker days, colder weather means you use more lights and heat, cook more hot meals, watch more TV. And you've probably added more appliances, too. So it's perfectly normal for your PG&E bill to be a little bigger these days. But doesn't it make it a little more bearable... when you know that the price of PG&E gas and electricity for a typical home is 8% less than it was 30 years ago!

Lend-Lease?

State Controller Alan Cranston has announced that the State's General Fund will borrow another $50 million this month from two other State funds: $15 million will come from the Architecture Revolving Fund and $35 million from the Special Deposit Fund. The latter fund is presently swollen with motor vehicle license receipts.

All in all, this makes a total of $110 million borrowed by the General Fund from various other State funds within just a few months. Of course, the other funds are supposed to be repaid for this "borrow" before June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

However, it does seem a bit absurd that any one fund should have to "borrow" from other funds at any time. Probably just one of those up-to-date "bookkeeping angles" that only the erudite few are familiar with.

But that is a heck of a lot of money — any way you look at it!

Women - Women - Women!

On February 1 and 2, representatives of all California women will have a chance to be heard at the Governor's Traffic Safety Conference, to be held in Los Angeles on these dates.

Clubwomen from all over the state have been invited to participate in the Women's Activities Division of this statewide safety conclave, under the chairmanship of Beth Bennett, San Diego. Mrs. Bennett is deputy director of the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

Better driving education, more and better use of research and a uniform system for reporting accidents will be among the topics to be considered at this meeting.

"This is the first time a special women's division has been included," said Mrs. Bennett, "and we hope at least one representative from every group of organized women's clubs in California will attend."

Well, it's about time Sacramento woke up to the facts of life — there are such things as women; they drive automobiles, too. Maybe these ladies can help solve at least some of our traffic safety problems. Anyhow, let's say "hats off to Sacramento for a good idea" — or should we say "hats off to the ladies?"

Planners Slate Meeting

Nearly 100 planning commissioners and planning staff officials from San Mateo, San Francisco and Santa Clara Counties plan to meet in Burlingame on Saturday, January 20. This tri-county council expects to hold a day-long session concerning "Legal Aspects of Planning."

San Mateo County Superior Court Judge Frank Blum will head a panel which will examine the conference topic for planners attending. With him will be San Mateo County District Attorney Howard Gawthrop. South San Francisco Planning Director Anita Robertson is handling reservations for the meeting.

For many years the planning commissions were not given much consideration by the general public. But, with the explosive population increase throughout the whole of California, they have come into a position of real importance. It is indeed gratifying to see three counties get together for a meeting of this kind.

Board Of Review

A board of review of three eminent engineers has begun studies of conflicting engineering reports to determine if it is permissable or advisable to install rail transit facilities on the Golden Gate Bridge, it was announced recently by M. A. Graham, president of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

On the panel are O. H. Amlann of New York, and Frank M. Masters, of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, who are considered among the world's greatest suspension bridge engineers, and Professor Nathan M. Newmark, head of the Department of Civil Engineering at the University of Illinois.

The board, which will be paid $30,000, including fees for expenses, surveys, printing and general costs, will present its report in 90 days.

No Strings . . .

Effectiveness of the American foreign program was demonstrated in the recent UN vote to seat the delegation from Communist China. Of 37 nations voting for admission, all but two have been booned with United States aid. Among them, Ghana had just been told we would loop through with $133 million for the Volta River dam, and Poland that it would receive trade credits of $45 million on top of the $514.5 million already donated by United States taxpayers.

No, indeedy! There are no strings attached to our benevolence.—HUMAN EVENTS.

Something For Everyone

by
Samuel Chandler

History is the record of all kinds of men: strong men, weaklings, patriots, cowards, little men, big men, wild men. Men who made our times better than theirs, and men who made our times worse than they might have been. The task of the historian is to explain the acts of men as steps in human progress.

This is precisely what Prof. Goldwen Smith attempts to do in his book The Heritage of Men. It is a history of the whole world, East and West, stressing man's achievement in art, government, commerce, science, literature, philosophy, and religion.

It is delightful to read Mr. Smith's descriptions of wars and depressions and cold wars that concerned in the ancient and medieval world and helped create our own wars, depressions and cold wars.

Patriot Chiefs by Alvin M. Josephy Jr. is a different kind of history. It chronicles in the lives of nine American Indians who believed they were facing the gravest threats that men face: challenges to freedom, right of conscience, personal security and life itself.

As a people we Americans have never recognized that the Indians were as worthy foes as our country ever faced. We have never seen the Indian as a patriot. Indeed we have never thought of him as a man with loyalities and emotions that resemble our own. It this book Mr. Josephy shows nine men who are the "good men: brave and true" of Indian history.

A third book of history is Walter Lord's A Time to Stand. It depicts the Alamo as a great national experience. In it the reader meets not only Jim Bowie and Davy Crockett but the others who fought at the Alamo: a blacksmith, a hatter, a house painter, a Baptist preacher and so on. The heritage we received from these Americans is, says Mr. Lord . . . "They were Americans sharing together a fierce love of liberty and a deep belief that the time had come to take their stand and keep it."

AGAINST COMMON MARKET — Speaking against the common market at Jefferson High School's model senate meeting on Jan. 12 is "Senator John G. Tower of Texas," Joyce Gaggero (left). Joyce said: "We don't need the common market. The drop of quotas and traiffs will upset the whole American economy."

Central American Education

(A special word of appreciation to Mr. Bill Wagner of Daly City for his assistance in clarifying historical data contained in this article.)

In sharp contrast to modern Guatemala City, it is possible to step back into history, several centuries, by visiting the ancient city of Antigua, and sister city, Ciudad Vieja (the old city), in Guatemala. Antigua was formerly known as Guatemala City, until destructive earthquakes, around 1770, forced the government to relocate the capital at its present site, and rename th ruins "Antigua" (ancint). In the relocation of the capital is a story of supreme effort, for there were no roads and Indians carried all the government possessions on their backs over terrain that would challenge our best hikers today.

The 40-minute bus ride from Guatemala City is a delight, for it provides the opportunity to view so many scenes that there is no time left to worry about the efficiency of the bus driver and the ascending, winding road ahead.

Indian women, dressed in handwoven skirts, will be noted carrying huge bundles of laundry on their heads, going to the community laundromat. The dress of the women, particularly the skirts, are of identical pattern (appearing somewhat like plaid), and indicate by color and weave the village or tribe to which the women belong. The carriage and posture of these women may only be described as beautiful and graceful. The laundromats on this road are a far cry from those found in a community such as our own. They consist of a wooden shelter, similar to a carport, under which long tables have been placed, with basins inserted therein, the basins being made of either stone or metal. There is no running water except the streams close by, which is carried by the women to the laundromat, where they gather to have a good clean time.

The grass and bushes surrounding the laundromats are a mass of color, since they are used to hang or lay the clothes while drying. Strangely enough, this method, which is admittedly primitive, is extremely effective, for the white clothes appear as new after bleaching a short while in the tropical sun. Some of the bed clothing that has been washed in this manner has a slight odor of hay, or grass, but not to the point of being offensive.

There are many more scenes along the way to enchant the visitor, and perhaps to add to lifelong memories of a mystic land. Some of these include the homes and dress of the mountain folk, bicycle riders, and distant lakes, cities and volcanoes which come into view as the bus approaches the summit of a mountain. All of these contribute to a feeling of wonderment and awe for the beauties of nature and accomplishment of man.

Arriving at Antigua, one enters the world of yesterday. This is not the bustling city of Guatemala. The town fathers have banned all new construction so as to preserve the historic remains in their present state.

The history of Antigua is very often confused with the history of Ciudad Vieja, which is another city located at the base of the Volcano Agua, approximately four miles from Antigua. On viewing the ruins in Antigua one might readily believe that it is one of the excavated cities, but such belief would not be accurate. Actually, what is seen in Antigua is the result of earthquakes of the 1700's. Ciudad Vieja has been excavated and is being restored from the results of volcanic eruptions along with a tragic overflow from a crater lake on top of the volcano which destroyed the city a number of years ago.

Antigua was once the capital of the Captaincy General of Goathemala, from which Spanish Rule extended into Southern Mexico and as far south as Panama. The present population is close to 10,800, but for two centuries, between 1550 and 1770, it was close to 80,000.

The history of Antigua is closely connected with the volcano which provides a background for the city. Being located so close to the city it is an impressive sight, for one cannot help but recall the tragedy it has brought to thousands of people.

In the center of town, as is customary in Central America, is the civic center bearing the name Plaza de Armas. Within the plaza is a well-known fountain dedicated to motherhood. From the fountainhead, which is replicas of women, water exudes from the breasts. Investigation into the artist or sculptor of this particular piece of art resulted only in obtaining the information that a Grecian and Roman influence appeared in the Guatemalan culture late in the 1600's. The fountain is a beautiful sculpture equal to any that might be seen in Europe.

The major ruins of Antigua are centered close to the plaza and within easy walking distance. There are several museums of interest which house such rare items as the first printing press used in Guatemala, rare first editions, colonial arms and numerous religious objects of art. Besides the many church ruins which will take hours to explore there are buildings such as the Palacio Del Muy Noble Ayuntamient (literally, town hall), the Palace of the Captain General, and a score of others. The Convent of the Capuchinas is one of impressive beauty, particularly the garden areas. There are also church dungeons, choir lofts, underground altars, and remarkable architecture to be seen. Finally, one should not overlook the opportunity of a view of the city from the top of an old church belfry.

COUNTY DOINGS

by JACK WOOD

Bay Area weather is like a Mexican weather report: Chile today, hot tamale.

The Peninsula was in something of a "deep freeze" Monday, Jan. 15 compared to the heat wave experienced the past week. Temperatures dropped to 24 at Woodside, causing residents to shiver morning and night.

Ice was forming on the swimming pools along the Skyline and in Woodside, lawns "made a crunching sound underfoot."

Daly City firemen had their hands full the past week when they: 1.) Helped disengage a raven's foot from its feeding dish at the Mrs. D. Newman residence, 265 Oliver street. 2.) Put out a fire set in a portable toilet by youths near construction work at the rebuilt Jefferson High gymnasium. 3.) Freed seven-year-old Shawna Rose's fingers from an egg beater at 72 Garden Grove.

Joseph Scamporino, 289 South San Anselmo street, San Bruno, made a bungle of a burglary last week on his way to the safe in the Rathskeller cafe. He tripped over two men who were guarding a gun exhibit and was shot in the back.

Attention is being turned to still another field of San Mateo County's methods of keeping people out of trouble.

Plans were outlined last week at a preview tour of the just completed county boys ranch near La Honda for a rehabilitative program, which can be described as modern indeed.

The ranch is a $390,000 project which will in the future accommodate some 60 wayward teenagers. And when it goes into operation later this month, emphasis will be on education and counseling, both for the boys and their parents.

Instead of the traditional half-school, half work method, youths in the San Mateo County ranch will be given an intensified full-time academic schedule all year round, plus opportunities to learn trades and agriculture.

The State Division of Forestry gives a clap on the back to San Mateo County for fighting three forest fires—the worst in a decade in the county. They praised the county's "immediate action in bringing into this area large numbers of men and equipment . . "

The View From ..Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

THE ROUST . . .

On two recent occasions, the police department has received citizens' complaints concerning "out of hand" situations existing within the city. The complaints were somewhat exaggerated, inasmuch as investigation disclosed no situation that could be construed as being "out of hand." However, an honest evaluation of the situations reported did indicate that vigorous, sustained police attention was required at two locations.

The first situation had as a locale the vicinity of Lake Merced and Alemany boulevards. The second situation centered in the "Hill" area or, roughly, a two or three block area radiating outward from the Hillcrest and Mission intersection.

In each case, citizen passers-by complained of being harassed by individuals and small groups of people, who consistently revelled as though each night were New Year's eve. In each case, the beat patrolmen were busy with the entire section of patrol, and could not alone give the afflicted areas the whole amount of concentration required.

The remedy prescribed by police administrators was to order their men to eliminate the undesirable situations. This was accomplished by implementation of good old-fashioned basic police work — in short, they "rousted" suspect individuals who frequented the sensitive areas.

In this case, the "route" consisted of aggressive patrol. Vigorous interrogation was made of loiterers and hangers-on, and in some cases physical assistance was given to those who were not prone to embark upon a homeward-bound direction. Loiterers were given explicit instructions as to their conduct, and at night sidewalks were cleared completely and ruthlessly. Numerous field interrogations were conducted, with a 3x5 field interrogation card submitted for each person so questioned — these amounted to some 450 cards for the month.

The officers invoked a forceful restriction of juvenile movement after the 10 p. m. curfew witching hour. Officers made energetic follow-up of warnings to individuals, and in cases where warnings had gone unheeded, issuance of citations and/or implementation of arrests was effected.

Beat officers concentrated more on their "trouble" spots. When extra patrol units were available, they were utilized in these areas of attention. Patrol sergeants and lieutenants gave their person attention to the areas, also. On some occasions, members of the investigation division, in plain clothes and plain cars, swooped down upon the neighborhoods, with effect; the bulk of the load was carried by patrol, however.

The situations have been corrected, at best, and contained, at worst. Citizens have, for the most part, been cooperative—apparently agreeing that some restriction of movement must on occasion be suffered by the individual for the greater good of the community.

IN RESERVE . . .

Blaine Glendening, a retired civil service employe, has accrued approximately 700 hours on patrol and assignments as a reserve member of this department. Blaine is married, has an adult son, and has resided in Daly City for 25 years. Hailing originally from Marshall County, Kansas, he served two years as a World War I Doughboy, and performed in the Meuse-Argonne campaign. Glendening was among those reserves who reported for duty during the emergency earthquake service in March, 1957.

John Henry Marshall, Jr., a 25-year-old hair stylist, has accumulated 125 hours of patrol and detail service with the Daly City police. John has lived in this city for 15 years, while wife Janice hails from San Mateo. He is a four year Navy veteran, with service at Okinawa and in Japan. Marshall is a Jefferson High School graduate and holds an Associate of Arts degree from college.

Palm Trees

bolic tree wiht a long history and not only goes well with other types of architecture—but provides a lovely contrast by shape and form. Some wonders do like it so well they have added others.

Some time when wind or rainstorm is in progress, take a look at the beauteous sight of the palm trees with the shiny green spikes dancing and swaying and bending — I am sure you will change your concept.

Because it is the goal of many volunteers working in different activities to provide a welcome and present programs of interest and development in Daly City, I was sorry that somehow no communication was made.

Under separate cover, I am sending Mrs. Capaci a program that I am sure will not only open new vistas of activity and interest, but after meeting many of the good people who live here I am sure she will agree that its the people who make the homes and communities a wonderful place to live—not the landscaping, pro or con . . . it is not inconceivable that Mrs. Capaci might change her mind about buying a home here, for the writing of her letter indicates that she does CARE about where she lives, and valuable contributions from just such persons have continually raised our standards of community life.

Most sincerely,
ELSIE M. GARRISON.

Questions and Answers

This is the third of five articles dealing with the Jefferson Union High School District's February 6th Tax Election. All of the articles, following a question-and-answer format, are designed to bring in concise form the important issues that the people of the high school district will be asked to vote upon.

Last week, the first five of fifteen questions that will be asked and answered were developed. Last week's questions were:

Why is the Tax Election necessary?

When did the Jefferson Union High School District have its last operational tax increase?

Why does the high school district need more money?

How does the high school district's present general purpose tax rate compare with other San Mateo schools?

What increases—tax, cost per pupil, enrollments, etc., has the high school district experienced since the passage of the present $1.35 in 1947?

Today's article deals with the following questions:

HOW DOES THE HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT'S EDUCATIONAL COSTS COMPARE WITH OTHER HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICTS?

Answer: The district has the LOWEST cost per A.D.A. of all of the high school districts in San Mateo County.

IS THE DISTRICT ATTRACTING AND RETAINING COMPETENT TEACHERS?

Answer: YES!! According to the California Teachers Association, the Jefferson Union High School District, for career teachers, has the second best salary schedule in Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties.

HOW IS IT POSSIBLE FOR A SCHOOL DISTRICT TO HAVE THE LOWEST COST PER A.D.A. AND THE SECOND HIGHEST SALARY SCHEDULE?

Answer: The Trustees and Administration of the high school district, believe that instruction is the heart and soul of a quality educational progrom. This year 66½% of the district's budgeted expenditures has been allocated to "Instruction" -- only 2½% to Administration." 96% of this year's income will be spent for salaries, insurance and utility expenses.

WILL THE ADDITIONAL MONEY DERIVED FROM THIS TAX ELECTION BE USED TO BUILD CLASSROOMS?

Answer: NO! Money to buy land and to build classrooms will come from the sale of District Bonds and from the State of California. The money derived from this election will be used to educate students—hire teachers, buy textbooks, supplies, etc.

IF THE $2.00 GENERAL PURPOSE TAX RATE IS APPROVED, WILL THE TRUSTEES LEVY THE FULL AMOUNT?

Answer: YES! Every cent will be needed to meet the district's obligations, if the present program of quality education is to be continued!

Food For Thought

By the Daly City Ministerial Association

As you read this, I am in San Diego on two weeks Active-Duty-For-Training as a Chaplain in the United States Navy Reserve. Perhaps you are among those who sincerely ask the question, "Is it consistent for a minister of the Gospel of Peace to wear a military uniform in preparation for possible war?"

In these days of threatening nuclear warfare, it is inconceivable that any person or nation could have anything less than an abhorrence of all-out conflict. Even a potential aggressor who might risk a traditional land-and-sea battle, realizes that today's missles might even leave the winner lying in charred ruins.

What, then, should be our attitude toward "peace," and the many organized efforts to promote it? Surely anyone who believes in God, even nominally, will agree that war is wrong, immoral, and inhuman. Yet we must recognize some of the current "disarmament" and "peace" drives for what they are—clever communist propoganda, designed to panic us into accepting "peace," even at the expense of our cherished freedom.

So there are two sides to the coin. Recognizing the God-given, universal desire for peace, we must encourage our officials to explore every possible avenue for securing world peace. But this must not be done at the price of compromising our liberties. We must take a realistic view, as God-fearing people, and see our opposition for what it is—atheistic, materialistic communism! Therefore, we have no alternative but to oppose unilateral disarmament on the part of the United States, in the face of the onward thrust of the world-wide communist conspiracy.

Then is there no hope for peace in the world? Jesus warned us that there would be "wars and rumors of wars"—as long as men's hearts remain selfish and evil, and their backs are turned to God. We must hope, and pray, and believe that peace is possible; yet we must prepare for the defense of free men, including our families, in case of enemy attack.

But what of the suspense, the frustration, the near-insanity resulting from such fears? Here we CAN find peace! Jesus said, "In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world . . . PEACE I leave with you, may PEACE I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto . . . Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid."

He will give you PEACE of mind and heart in response to sincere faith.

April Wedding Set

ENGAGEMENT was announced recently of Patricia Farris, 940 Powell street, former Westmoor High School student, and Roger Piazza, 3288 Folsom, Westmoor graduate. Miss Farris is a graduate of San Rafael High School and attended Westmoor her first two years in high school. She was active as yell leader and as student body class officer. # Sisterhood Plans Meet

The first general membership meeting of the Sisterhood of this year will be held Monday, Jan. 22, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Jack Kanner, 173 Miranda drive, Daly City.

For his sermon on Friday evening, Jan. 19, Rabbi Solomon Shore has chosen the topic "The Birth of a Leader," describing the life of Moses. The traditional family worship services will be held at 8:30 p. m. at 67 Los Banos avenue, Daly City, with an Oneg Shabbath in the social hall following the services.

Member Drive To Begin At St. Paul's

The Commission on Membership and Evangelism of St. Paul's Methodist Church, under the leadership of Mrs. Joe Paron, chairman, has inaugurated a church attendance campaign among members and friends from January to Easter, 1962. Members of the church and others have been asked to sign a "loyalty covenant" in which as members of the church they pledge to uphold it by their attendance, prayers, gifts, and service. Each member keeps his own attendance record on a card.

Using the theme "The Answer is God," an attempt is being made to increase the individual worship's attendance average. A "good" church member will attend from 75 to 100 per cent of the Sundays each year; a "fair" church member will attend from 50 to 75 per cent of the same Sundays; while a "poor" church member attends less than half of the Sundays of the year.

The campaign will culminate during the Easter season and it is hoped that the good habit of steady worship will be acquired by all participating. The attendance campaign will be further stimulated by a calling effort entered into by some of the churches of South San Francisco and participated in by St. Paul's Methodist Church in February.

The Reverend Robert A. Lundy will attend the annual dinner meeting of the Northern California-Nevada Council of Churches in Governor's Hall, fairgrounds, Sacramento, on January 18. He is relinquishing his duties as chairman of the council's important Commission on Legislation and Public Morals.

John Rummell, chairman of the official board of St. Paul's Methodist church plans to be present at the meeting also, which will be addressed by Dr. J. Irwin Miller, president of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America.

On Sunday, January 21, 1962, the pastor will preach upon the theme, "Grooves of Grace" at 9:30 and 11 a. m. A coffee hour under the direction of Wesleyan Service Guild will be provided at 10:30 a.m. for worshipers of both church services.

The Youth Council will meet at 5:30 p.m., January 21.

The theme, "China in Dispersion," which treats of Chinese nationalists all over the world, will be the topic in the School of Missions, considered under the leadership of John Rummell.

Guest Speaker At Seacliff

Herb Wells, program director for radio station KEAR-FM, will be the guest speaker Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Seacliff Community Church, 50 Northridge drive in Westlake. Pastor Clark Robb is on two weeks' active duty for training in San Diego as chaplain in the United States Navy Reserve.

Wells will be remembered by many in Daly City as the narrator for the Festival of Faith, held in the War Memorial Building as part of Daly City's Golden Anniversary observance. A native of Michigan, he is a Presbyterian Seminary graduate with 15 years' experience in radio work. In addition to his present position in San Francisco, he has worked with NBC in New York, and with a station in Alaska, sponsored by the Presbyterian Church.

In addition to the morning sermon, Wells will tell of the special ministry of religious radio. The Seacliff Community Church has become rather closely related to the station through its weekly broadcast, "Songs of Seacliff," heard each Sunday at 10 p. m. at 97.3 on the dial.

Marriage Discussion At St. Veronica's

The spiritual, emotional and physical aspects of marriage will be discussed by three experts in their fields at the sixth Cana Conference sponsored by the Christian Family Movement in St. Veronica's parish on Sunday, January 21. This afternoon meeting for married couples of all faiths will be held from 1:30 to 5 p.m. in the school cafetorium on Alida Way.

"Communication in Marriage" will be the general theme for the program. Within that context the Rev. Bernard A. Cummins will discuss "God in Marriage." Father Cummins holds a master's degree in the sociology of marriage from Catholic University of America. He conducts retreats for married couples and is also vice-principal at Serra high school.

The psychological side of marriage will be analyzed by John Preisinger, M. D., San Francisco psychiatrist and former head of McAuley Clinic at St. Mary's hospital. Roy Pasqualetti, M. D., obstetrician and gynecologist on the staffs of St. Mary's and Marin General hospitals will speak on physcial adjustments in marriage.

All three speakers have taught marriage courses in Bay Area Catholic high schools and have been active in Cana conferences throughout the archdiocese of San Francisco.

A question - and - answer period will be part of the program. Refreshments will be served during an intermission when art and books relating to marriage will be on display. The conference will close in the church with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and renewal of nuptial vows by participating couples.

Cana conferences, named after the wedding feast of St. John's gospel, have been sponsored by Christian Family Movement groups since the late 1940's when the first ones were held in New York and Chicago. The conferences are designed specifically for engaged, newlywed or long-married couples to help them "make happy marriages even happies" by interpreting the marriage vocation in the light of Christian principles.

Co-chairmen for the St. Veronica's conference are Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeHart. They have announced that no reservations are necessary for those who wish to attend. A donation of $1.50 per couple will be asked at the door.

The planning committee consists of Messrs. and Mmes. Thomas Fee, general arrangements; Allen McVeight, refreshments; William Gerk, book and art display, and John Arnaudo, publicity. The Rev. Thomas Burns, assistant pastor, is chaplain for the CFM group.

WHAT'S DOING

T. P. Coyne, your Telephone Manager in Daly City

You wouldn't think so to look at it, but your telephone is a really complex arrangement of 472 separate precision parts. Spread out, they'd cover a desk top! Yet teams of skilled people at Western Electric, manufacturer for the Bell System companies, can make a phone from scratch in just about 45 minutes.

At Western Electric's main plant some 30,000 telephones a day come off the assembly lines. This takes plenty of technical know-how. It also takes a constant search for new and more efficient processes, tools, and work methods.

The result of this teamwork: keeping up with California's and the nation's fast-growing telephone needs with high quality products that help us serve you better.

* * * * *

I've seen a number of articles lately on how to improve one's reading speed. Now that's something our Information operators are very interested in. So they can give you quick, accurate information, they've taken company Rapid Reading courses, use special indexes and cross references. Three years ago, the average time spent on a request for a telephone number was thirteen seconds longer than it is today. Learning to cut down the time it takes to give you the information you want has also made the job easier for our operators. This is another important way we have found to help give you better telephone service.

Unusual uses for telephone books. One of the telephone companies received an order from a South American fruit company for 800 telephone books—Yellow Pages and all. Turned out they were to bullet-proof a truck against bandits!

It figures—when you need help, you'll find it fast in the Yellow Pages!

Study Trips Increase Understanding Of Olympia School Children

Boys and girls at Olympia School are learning many things by first hand experiences such as study trips, observation of models and by constructing various things in their social studies. They are also learning by many vicarious experiences such as reports from others, research, records, tape recordings, films, and other visual material.

Several classes took study trips last week as a phase of their social studies. Miss Elsbree and Mrs. Mathis took their first grade class to the San Mateo Jr. Museum. At the museum Carol Kemnitz gave an excellent presentation on the bullfrog and snake. After looking over the exhibits, they went downstairs where the live animals are kept. There they experienced holding a guinea pig and petting a rabbit and a skunk. They also ate a picnic lunch.

Maritime Museum

Mrs. Busetto's third graders culminated their study of the community and Bay Area with a cruise of the harbor. Children were also accompanied on the trip by Room Mothers Mrs. John Lutz, Mrs. R. J. Royce and Mrs. Clyde Sargent.

Following the cruise, the children toured the Maritime Museum, in groups of six to eight with parental guidance. Of special interest, portrayed later in pictures and stories, were the giant anchor, the models of ships of all sizes, whaling spears and harpoon guns, and carved whale teeth.

The children presented questions to Lt. Fred Gardner, Officer in charge of the Fireboat at Pier 22. He was assisted in answering questions and in demonstration of equipment by Pilor G. Declercq. The group have completed a thirty page folder of stories and maps complete with a table of contents to further facilitate continued referral to the student-made booklet.

Transportation Study

Mrs. Lamp's combination second and third grade has been studying transportation in our area. The children have been working in groups of their interest area and have been using various resource materials such as books, maps, charts, films, studyprints, records, models, pamphlets, magazines and newspapers for research purposes.

Each group chose its group leader and by using group processes have thoroughly researched the latest topic "How Does Transportation Use Communication?" They found that many means of communication such as the telephone, telegraph, radio, radar, television, signals, whistles, bells were used by various means of transportation—ships, railroads, aircraft, cars and trucks.

Home And Family

Mrs. Snell's first grade class is studying the Home Family Living unit. They have located there they live on a map, have discussed father's type of work and drawn pictures. They have also been studying insects found in the classroom and school grounds.

Mrs. Jones's first grade class is working on a box movie about the Monarch Butterfly and its flight from Canada to Carmel. The Monarch's fly from Canada in October and return in May.

Miss Hamblin's second grade class is studying about community helpers. As a culminating activity, they visited the Fire Station. The class was accompanied by Miss Hamblin and Mrs. Dapkus, the student teacher.

Magnet Study

Miss Cottrell's second grade children are culminating their study of magnets and their use in the various methods of communication. They have found that magnets are used in the telephone, compass, and many machines, and they are used to make work easier.

Through their exploration of magnets they found that magnets attract things made from iron, some are stronger than others, a magnet can be made by rubbing on a piece of iron or steel, there are several different types of magnets, a magnet will attract from some distance; a magnetic force will attract through materials that are not themselves magnetic; and Oersted's discovery of the electromagnet.

Ship Nomenclature

Mrs. Mattson's third grade is studying the effect of boats and ships in transportation. The first field of study was the nomenclature of ships and boats and uses for various kinds of vessels.

The second stage will include the harbor and the relation of the city of San Francisco to the ships and the harbor. The final stage will be the integration of shipping as a form of transportation to San Francisco and the Bay Area.

The concepts and generalizations gained through a unit of this nature will greatly increase the child's understanding of this own community and his place in it.

Educators Explain Teaching Methods

"Under effective teaching, the range of learning in a given class should be much greater at the end of the year than in the beginning," Jefferson High School Elementary District Superintendent Richard Foster said.

Foster spoke at a "What's New In Schools" meeting Jan. 11 of the Thomas Edison School PTA along with Dr. Vincent Stratton, assistant superintendent of education.

He stressed the following points:

1. Changes in learning take place best when material has meaning.
2. Problem solving learning lasts longer and is better than rote learning.
3. Concepts are more important than individual facts.

Dr. Strattion said that five elementary libraries are now open and every school with fourth, fifth and sixth graders will have libraries by the end of the year.

He spoke about new arithmatic materials of an advanced nature for grades three through six; new science materials purchased under the national defense education act—$20,000 worth this year matched by the federal government. Applied for will be approximately $27,000 worth next year.

Dr. Stratton gave a demonstration on a controlled reader, a machine which sets on a screen a story in which speed can be set at a given rate in order to increase speed and comprehension for children. He also gave a demonstration of a group microscope with slides in order that children can examine slides at the same time on a screen.

BETA SIGMA GUEST DAY IS JANUARY 21

By Ethel Miller

Tau Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi is presenting its annual guest day on Sunday, Jan. 21, at the Surf Room, Sea Bowl, Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, from 1 to 3 p. m.

Speaker will be from the sorority's San Francisco city council. A skit will be presented.

Beta Sigma Phi was founded by Walter W. Ross in Abilene, Kan., on April 30, 1931, to provide for women a sorority which unites culture and social events, which combines an opportunity of increasing friendships and doing some worthwhile service for the community in which they live.

International

Beta Sigma Phi is international because there are chapters in nine countries, which are: the United States and its territories, including the Canal Zone; Guam, Canada, England, Scotland, Germany, Austria, Greece, Finland and Saudi Arabia. There are over 5,500 chapters and more than 150,000 active members.

At the present time, Tau Gamma Chapter has installed a cabinet and will, in the future, obtain supplies for Pacifica's civil defense mobile first aid vehicle. (We were instrumental in starting civil defense in Pacifica.) We have the Coastside Convalescent Home in Montara as one of our service projects.

The patients are supplied with gifts, decorations, entertainment and visits at various times of the year. There is also a mental patient at Sonoma State Hospital that we send notes and gifts to. We keep a fund for Pacifica's Welfare Referral Board and help in the city's activities whenever time permits.

Many Donations

Through Beta Sigma Phi's International Endowment Fund, the sorority donates to Girlstown, U. S. A., Children's Cancer Research Foundation, Cystis Fibrosis, and Magnetic Springs for physically handicapped children.

Also through the International Endowment Fund, plans are now in progress for a retirement home for members and some day it will become a realization.

On the lighter side, social events are planned throughout the year for the members and their husbands.

Korea Vets Get Dividends

Mailing of nearly $1,055,893 in special dividend checks to 14,675 Korea Conflict veterans in Northern California holding "W" type GI insurance policies is now virtually complete, Glenn Corbitt, manager of VA's Northern California Regional Office, said today.

However, more than 7,500 Korea veterans in Northern California are still eligible for this special dividend. They hold "RS" type GI policies and must convert to or exchange for "W" type insurance before September 14, 1963, in order to qualify for the special dividend.

On or after that date, while they may still convert to a permanent plan "W" type policy or exchange their temporary policy for a lower premium term "W" type policy, they will not be eligible to receive the special dividend.

Each of these "RS" policyholders will receive a letter from the VA early in 1962 explaining the advantages of changing to "W" type policies.

"RS" insurance was issued to Korea veterans discharged between April 25, 1951, and December 31, 1956, as five-year term policies not eligible for dividends. The new type "W" policies were established in January 1959.

"W" insurance, Corbitt emphasized, is non-participating and therefore not eligible for regular dividends. A bill signed into law September 13, 1961, authorized the special dividend now being paid from an available surplus in the non-participating fund. There will be no further dividends on the insurance.

terans will not have to write the VA concerning their "RS" policies since they will receive word from VA directly. A flow of correspondence may delay the actual processing of the "RS" policies.

Judge Rose Speaks On Courts, Liberty

"Those who wish to realize the blessings of freedom, must undergo the fatigues of supporting it."

Quoting early American patriot Thomas Paine at the Jan. 10 meeting of the Daly City Rotary Club was Frank Rose, who has just concluded six months as presiding judge of the superior court of San Mateo County.

Judge Rose entertained and informed the Rotarians with a talk on how American freedoms are linked hand in hand with its free judicial system.

The real significance of the court machinery in present day Cuba he said is that (1. Here is an experience in dictatorship and communism at our own front door. (2. One of the acts that Castro did was put "stooges" in place of judges. (3. As of a year ago, almost all of the Cuban Supreme Court had fled to the U. S.

"What does an independent court system mean to us?" Judge Rose asked. 1. "You have the right as a free American to a writ of habeas corpus. 2. Right of representation by attorney 3. Right to prepare witnesses. 4. Right of trial by jury.

"When these are taken away," Rose said, "The individual stands alone against organized force."

Judge Rose cited two cases in American history which helped shape the American principles of judicial freedoms:

He cited the Peter Zenger trial in which Zenger, a New England printer, was jailed by the New Royal Government of England when he accused the local governor of being corrupt.

Zenger was finally acquitted after spending seven months in jail, after Andrew Hamilton, an attorney from Philadelphia, represented his case. This trial upheld the American right to criticize persons of authority both publicly and in the press.

Rose also cited the case of John Adams in 1770. An attorney from Boston, Adams undertook to represent the British soldiers responsible for the Boston massacre as a matter of judicial principle, not of personal emotion.

"These cases are keystones to the judicial system we have today," Judge Rose said.

Colma's K-6 School Visits Bay Model

The study trip to Sausalito to see the San Francisco Bay model was a rewarding experience for Mrs. McKeown's Colma K-6 third and fourth grade students who are currently studying the Bay Area. The model is housed in a warehouse and is part of an engineering investigation of the entire Bay Area. It is used to analyze hydraulic problems of the Bay which cannot be solved from textbooks or mathematics alone.

Mr. Horton conducted the tour around the model, pointing out the various instruments and points of interest. He also showed a film entitled "Speaking of Models," showing the use of hydraulic models as a means of solving many engineering problems.

The studies of the Bay model are concerned primarily with the shoaling of waterways. The studies are expected to be complete by 1963.

Mrs. Cafferata, room mother, accompanied the class on their excursion.

There once lived a shy helicopter,
Who lived in the town of Ceopter.
Once a lass near a ridge
Just jumped from a bridge
But the shy helicopter stopped her.

That one is by Elaine Stadtner. The following are by Phil Vangene, David Barza and Kristine Vinson:

There once was a fat girl named Mable,
Who gobbled much food at the table.
She cleaned up her platter,
And grew fatter and fatter
And that was the end of Mabel.

There once was an old ictheosaurus,
Who rode on an old brontosaurus,
But they got caught
In a tar pit so hot,
And died in a way that was poorest!

There is a young lady whose nose,
Continually prospers and grows.
When it grew out of sight,
She exclaimed in a fright,
"Oh! Farewell to the end of my nose."

TV and Radio

By MONA BAKER

"They let me choose my own clothes for the program," the glamorous star said in answer to our question, "and I've only worn an apron twice, and then it was made to match my dress." A vision of loveliness in her American beauty suit—a striking contrast to her jet black hair — Myrna Fahey (Kay Banks in CBS, KPIX's "Father of the Bride" series) just couldn't help but inspire anyone to talk about clothes.

Actually, clothes were her reason for coming to San Francisco from Hollywood, because she was to be featured that evening in a fashion show at a local department store wearing, appropriately enough, a wedding gown.

Also in San Francisco for the show was star Leon Ames, who has the title role in the popular television series.

The two stars had just received word that their program would be renewed for the fall and they were quite excited about the good news.

Leon Ames has quite an impressive background having appeared on the stage, in movies and on other television programs, including the portrayal of Father Day in "Life With Father." His Broadway appearances include "The Best Man," "The Male Animal," "Guest in the House" and many other hits. Among his screen credits are "Meet Me in St. Louis," "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo" and most recently "The Absent-Minded Professor" and "The View from the Terrace," to name only a few.

In addition to her "Father of the Bride" series, Myrna has appeared on televison on "Perry Mason," "Dobie Gillis" and "Gunsmoke." She also had a featured role in the motion picture "The Story on Page One."

One of the highpoints in the current "Father of the Bride" series is the wedding scene which will be seen on Feb. 2 over KPIX at 9:30 p.m.

New on KRON-TV's schedule is a program, "Fun With Science," slanted toward youngsters in the 5 to 10 year age group which is seen every Wednesday at 4:15 p. m. over Channel 4. The idea of the show is very good, program host Wesley Gordon, science curriculum co-ordinator of the San Lorenzo School District, does a commendable job, but somehow there seems to be something lacking to keep the program moving. The program, we feel, needs a youngster to ask the questions if the show is to hold the interest of young viewers.

Good news from KQED is that viewers in the Mt. Diablo area will soon be able to receive Channel 9. Beginning on Feb. 5, a new translator station atop Mt. Diablo will automatically rebroadcast all KQED programs on UHF Channel 80. Previously, viewers in that area were shadowed by the Oakland-Berkeley hills and unable to receive KQED's signal.

H. Liebes Will Fete A Baby

H. Liebes is looking for a baby. A brand new one, born between 12:01 a.m. January 1 and 12:01 a.m. February 22.

"We are not going to adopt the child — just give it a party," Lloyd Liebes, vice president of the firm, said today. "Our own baby — a very pretty one, too — is our new Westlake store which will, we hope, be ready to present to the public February 22.

The lucky infant, whose name will be drawn in the store on opening day, will win a christening party, or a festive brunch if the parents prefer.

The mother will receive a new dress and hat, and the baby will have the kind of apparel a well dressed baby should wear. There will be food from a caterer, champagne and photographs to commemorate the occasion.

"The baby can be a boy or a girl," said Liebes, grandfather of eight children, six of them little girls. "We hope the child will be a girl. We like girls, you know, especially those who come to our stores. But if it is a boy, he will have a party just the same."

Parents, or prospective parents, who wish to participate in the drawing may obtain entry blanks at the Westlake store, which is now under construction. "Next year we will give our baby another party on its first birthday," said Liebes. "We believe by that time everyone will love both our babies."

GALLAGHER-WEST VOWS SAID

Sharon Gallagher Weds Fred West In Pacifica

At the Church of the Good Shepherd, nuptial vows were taken Saturday December 30, by Sharon Louise Gallagher and Fred Eldon West. Father Gluszek performed a double ring ceremony at 11 a.m., which was followed by a reception for 250 guests at the VFW Hall in Pacifica.

For her wedding Sharon wore a gown of white satin and chantilla lace with a fingertip veil and rhinestone tiara, and carried a spary of white orchids.

The bride's only attendant Matron of Honor Sandra Steinberg, her cousin, wore a gown of gold satin and carried a bouquet of white carnation, apple blossoms and baby-breath with ribbon of gold satin.

The grooms best man was his cousin Sal Guardino of San Francisco. Ushers were Raymond West and John Thomas of Pacifica.

The bride was given away by her father, James J. Gallagher. The parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. James Gallagher reside at 12 Sharon Way, Pacifica.

The brides mother wore a tweed suit of powder blue with white accessories and a white orchid, and the grooms mother selected a champagne suit with matching accessories.

LEGION SPONSORS "DIMES" DRIVE

Scores of members of American Legion posts from all parts of San Mateo County plan to participate in the annual "Rainbow Crutch Days" special benefit event for the 1962 March of Dimes this coming weekend.

The Legionnaires will be "selling" the little vari-colored crutches as lapel emblems for the current March of Dimes fund raising campaign on this coming Friday and Saturday all over the county.

"We hope to raise several hundred dollars for the March of Dimes in this Rainbow Crutch event," said Richard C. Smith of Redwood City, county chairman for the American Legion posts taking part this coming weekend.

Chairman Smith added that "we in the American Legion feel the annual New March of Dimes is a public health campaign, and are proud to be affiliated with such an effort each January, as in the past several years."

He said nearly all American Legion posts in the county are again participating in the "Rainbow Crutch Days" event, together with women members of several American Legion auxiliary units as well to "offer these little lapel emblems to the public for a dime, a quarter, a dollar, or whatever you care to contribute as an added donation to this fine health cause."

The 1962 New March of Dimes continues through Jan. 31, as usual, to raise funds needed to carry on the fight against polio to a finish, and also "to raise money to do-a-polio on both arthritis and birth defects, cripplers of many thousands each year, too, and eliminate them as a scourge to humanity."

Mrs. Walden showed color slides of her recent trip through Mexico to the combined sixth grades. The children were quite interested in the running commentary provided by Mrs. Walden as she told them the "story" behind each slide.

As a follow-up to a combined field trip to the Hills Brothers coffee processing plant in San Francisco, the children were treated to a private film showing and lecture by Mr. Hunter and Mr. Simmons from Benjamin Franklin School, who were part of that four-man party which toured Mexico and Central America last summer.

Consul Of Ecuador Apt. Gutted By Fire

Fire gutted the apartment of a consul of Ecuador on Wednesday, Jan. 3, in Westlake, bringing a score of fire engines and causing injury to one fireman.

The blaze was reported at 2:10 p.m. in a group of apartments just north of the Doelger Corp. office. Consul Cesar Valdivieso and his wife escaped injury.

Taken to Junipero Serra Hospital with ankle injuries when fire broke through a window and knocked him down a ladder was fireman Gary Curto.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy conjectured the blaze started because tenants had left rags or mops in a water heater compartment. Several volunteers were called to the fire. Four fire engines and four fire cars were put into action.

Tossed Pencil Brings Damage Suit To City

A pencil tossed by a student struck the eye of 14-year-old Jerry Deschler last Sept. 22 at the Benjamin Franklin School.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Deschler, 390 St. Francis boulevard, Daly City, are now asking $5,000 personal injury damages.

They are suing the Jefferson Elementary School District, the City of Daly City and the San Mateo Board of Supervisors for general damages and medical costs.

The claim contends that the boy suffered an injury to his right eye Sept. 22, 1961, at about 1 p. m. when a classmate threw a pencil across the room.

Jerry, the suit contends, suffered injury and "severe nervous shock."

Attorneys for the plaintiff are Hoberg, Singer, Brown and Abramson of San Francisco.

Westmoor High PTA will feature "Students in Action" at the January 18 meeting at the Westmoor High School in the Little Theatre according to program chairman Fred Adams. The meeting will start at 8 p.m.

A short business meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Benjamin Pulsifer, unit president, with the balance of the program to students in action. Last year this program drew a SRO house of interested parents and friends.

Life membership selection committee was named at the unit executive board meeting as follows: Mesdames Gene Sebastiani, chairman; Edward Perry, Thomas Colangelo, Herbert Quandt, and Walter Baker.

Co-chairman Mrs. Quandt and Mrs. Milam reported the unit membership has 483 members and needs 17 more to complete its quota of 500 members. Membership applications will be available at the January 18 meeting. Dues are $1 for single membership and $1.50 for family membership.

The final report covering the PTA annual holiday dinner showed a net of $929. Funds raised from the holiday event have been budgeted for scholarships and student activities for students of Westmoor High School.

Mrs. Pulsifer issued a statement extending a sincere "thank you" on behalf of the PTA unit for the generous donations and to all the parents and friends who helped make this affair a success.

Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the PTA program. Attendees are invited by Mrs. Anthony Contreras, hospitality chairman, to partake of the PTA hospitality and visit with the instructors in the school cafeteria.

Serra Vista PTA Gives Drive Prizes

The Serra Vista PTA membership contest came to a close with Mrs. Humphries' third-grade class winning first prize of $15. Second prize of $10 went to Miss Rudner's sixth graders and the third prize of $5 was won by Mrs. Musacchio's fourth graders.

A bonus prize was presented to Lesley Anne Irvine from Mr. Silverman's fifth-grade class for bringing in the most outside members. The prize money will be used to purchase equipment for the classroom.

Mrs. Homer R. Lynn and Mrs. James Berryessa, co-membership chairmen, announce that the drive was very successful and wish to thank everyone for their participation.

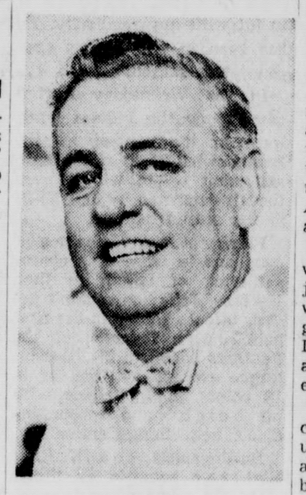
Politicians Make Campaign Promises At Vista Mar School

As a new semester approaches, it means a change of class officers in Miss Harriet Gels' fifth grade. Pre-election to nominate two candidates for each office has thus taken place.

The nominees will then prepare their campaign speeches and the election will follow. We feel we have some real politicians in Room 2 after hearing the campaign speeches. The retiring officers are Jackie Celle, president; Pete Scannell, vice president; Petra Wende, secretary; Susan Thomas, treasurer, and Michael Freeman, librarian.

Social studies committees are busy with projects on the Middle Atlantic states. Clay models of the skyscrapers in New York, a dramatization of the Dutch settling New York, and many interesting reports on these states will culminate the unit.

Since the Middle Atlantic states' main source of income is manufacturing, a correlation of science activities with social studies has been activated in the study of simple machines. Students were amazed to discover taht all these powerful machines have developed from the inclined plane, screw, the wedge, lever, wheel and pulley.



FRED ANDERSON, 63 Fernwood avenue, Daly City, is shown at San Francisco International Airport prior to his departure for Tokyo on a Japan Air Lines Jet Courier, January 9. Anderson, manager, foreign travel department, California State Auto Association, will attend the Pacific Area Travel Association conference in Hong Kong after surveying tourist attractions in Japan, Formosa and Hong Kong.

New State Ruling On Surplus Taxes

Surplus funds remaining upon completion of payment of a State School Building Aid Fund may be deposited in the county treasury general fund and expended for all such purposes for which general funds may be spent, ruled Attorney General Stanley Mosk.

District Attorney Keith Sorenson of San Mateo County requested a ruling on a surplus of approximately $10,000 in taxes levied to repay a loan from the State. The money has been budgeted for capital improvements needed to be made by the school district.

"The taxes levied by the Board of Supervisors for the payment of loans incurred by a school district are deposited in the county treasury to the credit of the general fund of the district," states the opinion. "Thus, after the loan has been repaid the surplus remains in the general fund of the district. The use of the funds are not thereafter limited but may be expended by the district for all such purposes for which general funds may be spent. They should properly be used to defray general expenses of the district and thus such expenditures should reflect a reduction in the tax levy required for the succeeding year."

The opinion was prepared by Deputy Attorney General Richard L. Mayers of Sacramento.

New Sauce Adds Exciting Flavor to Burgers

Popular the year round, beefburgers broiled in the kitchen range take on new dimensions with the artful seasoning of bottled all-purpose barbecue sauce. Season the meat before broiling with this new zesty sauce, and you'll be surprised how much of the "open pit" flavor it lends to burgers. The difference in flavor is in the perfectly seasoned sauce.

Cheese Whamburgers

2 tablespoons all-purpose barbecue sauce
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ pounds ground beef
6 slices of cheese

Stir barbecue sauce and salt into beef. Shape into round patties. Broil on both sides; then top each patty with a slice of cheese and spoon on additional barbecue sauce. Continue broiling until cheese is melted—about 1 minute. Makes about 6 servings.

NAVY IS SEEKING MORE OFFICERS

Blackington, director of naval officer procurement for northern California, Nevada and Utah, announced in San Francisco that the Navy has accelerated its officer candidate school program and is seeking qualified college graduates and seniors of both sexes for enrollment into the program at this time.

In addition, applicants must be between the ages of 19 through 27, in excellent physical condition and meet the mental and moral standards for commissioning as an officer in the United States Navy.

Westmoor Smashes Warriors Tie For Peninsula Lead

The Sport Scene

By JIM GOLDSBOROUGH

The masthead of this column bears the name "Sports Scene." This implies a kind of first hand look into all the varied world of sport. A peak into the psyche of America's favorite pastimes.

The sports writer has all the channels of communication open to him. Wires go out to thousands of sources, and no stone is unturned in the quest to report all that befalls the gladiators whether in arena, stadium or their living rooms. Big or small all the ball-chasers get their moment in the sun. Field hockey, curling, donkey baseball, cricket, dominoes, and mah jong are observed and reported in long somber weighty treatises. The big ones are of course the stalwarts—football, basketball and baseball. But you can write just so much on these pontiffs and then they become a big drag.

So this time I'm going to have it my way, and instead of writing about the stuff that we all go and watch, I'm going to talk about the element of sport that makes it all worth while. The sport that you go out and DO. The excitement that comes from a fling with it yourself. That's how it all started anyway; before it degenerated into mere hero worship.

Last Saturday I tried to get out of the stadia for a while, and back close to some of the natural elements that for me are the sine qua non of sport.

I went down to the sea.

I picked out a large rock that seemed to me a very good rock, and sat down to enjoy what was a fine day, and also watch the ships come in and the fishermen. A football game was in progress between two teams of four boys playing tackle ( a better game for sand). Nobody was watching them, but the game seemed appropriate enough for the beach on a Saturday.

I had been reposed on my rock for a few minutes when up cantered (perhaps trotted) two horses and coming across a man on a rock, they stopped.

One of the riders was George McDonald, a friend of mine who is a resident of Pacifica. George and his wife had two healthy horses that they had rented somewhere and they were out riding wherever the horses wanted to go.

Taking turns for the next hour, the three of us got in some good running along the beach. The horses weren't the best, but they had energy, and seemed to be enjoying the day. They didn't mind at all accommodating three of us.

I imagine there are many things better than running a horse along the beach on a fine day, but at the time it was enough.

It was about 60 degrees Saturday and very clear. Ships as you may know enter the channel by keeping about a mile outside the Mile Rock as they come from the south.

On a day such as this the wind blowing across the port sends the black smoke aft and starboard. The sun being never more than about 55 degrees overhead at this latitude in January, shines directly on the ships hull, and also at a very direct angle to the choppy seas caused by the wind. Everything seems very bright and clear and exciting. It is cold but the bright sun warms your face and you don't mind.

I sat long enough for six ships to come steaming into view and disappear behind Land's End where I could no longer watch them.

I could see from the big rock in Pacifica straight across 20 miles of green-gray sea and eight white rows of jumping breakers, to the westerly tip of Marin.

I went down and talked to two fishermen who were fishing together, and together had caught three small perch. They were disappointed, but kept casting. Then I watched for a moment the game of football.

The sea still is the greatest sports event of it all. Sport to be good has to be exciting, and excitement usually always involves risk. Whenever I go to the sea—even if it's just to watch it, I start feeling good and kind of free, and instead of letting it pass I try to figure out what's going on inside that causes it.

I know it has something to do with solitude and longing, but it's so real that no matter what it really is, just feeling it is enough. Without any analysis at all.

Sunday we went over to Sausalito and got in our little 20 foot Crosby and started out to go under the bridge because of another same day with a good bright sun, and the ocean was doing the same thing.

It said come with me and I'll take you way out to a place you'd like to see like Tubuai, Tuamoutu or Rarotonga. Come right along in your little 20 foot boat and you'll make it.

There was the lure. How many times has she said it to how many men?

But we didn't go. Not this time at least.

Perhaps a larger boat.

Rams Start Fast Both Games Weaken In Second Half

At the end of the second week of Peninsula league play, the Westmoor Rams are in a tie for first place.

Three teams — Westmoor, San Mateo and Burlingame have a piece of the top spot, each with 3-1 league marks.

Last Wednesday the Rams suffered their first defeat of the season to the Capuchino Mustangs, 58-50. What appeared to be a Ram ballgame at the half, quickly turned into a Cap dominated second half as the Mustangs came from behind to score 35 second half points to win it.

The Rams led at the half 26-23, and widened the margin early in the third period as Mike Daniels dropped in six straight points. Then with Westmoor leading 31-25, the Mustangs opened up with 10 straight points, and with a 17-13 edge in the final period held on to win it.

This week none of the leaders will face each other. The Rams take on Aragon (2-2), Wednesday, in the Don's gym, and come home on Friday night to meet Jefferson (1-3).

A win in both games would put Westmoor in a strong position as the fourth week of play begins.

Win Over Warriors

Things went better in Friday's game at South San Francisco. Curiously the game had the same pattern as Westmoor got off to a 15-6 first period lead, and widened it to 34-21 at the half. Then in the third frame, the sharpshooting of game high point man Dick Drake began to even things. Drake who ended with 27 points, a season high thus far, led his mates to a 21-12 third period edge and a 11-9 fourth period bulge, but couldn't quite close it all the way.

With :45 showing on the clock and the Warriors trailing only 53-50, Steve Schmuck hit two straight free throws, and there just wasn't time left for the Warriors to close the gap. With seconds left the Warriors got in two more free throws, but it wasn't enough.

INDIAN VS. PANTHER. Jeff's Rich Reitz (32) hits in last Wednesday's game against Burlingame, played at Westmoor High School. Though this one was good, there weren't enough of them as the Indians went under, 48-35. Looking on are Wayne Crane (22) and Don Boden (behind Reitz).

Jeff Goes Down Twice Now Face Leaders

FUMBLE AT MIDFIELD. Dan Luciano fights for a loose ball as Steve Willis (34) and Dan Luciano (14) start to his aid. Burlingame, by running up overwhelming first half edge, 24-10, hung on to beat the Indian, 48-35. (Photos by John Marino—Jefferson)

Mike Orlich said it last week and he was right. Jefferson was going to run into trouble when they faced big men.

Last week two six foot eight inch centers just had too much height for the smaller men from Jeff to handle. Against Burlingame it was Hence Wallace who led his mates to a 48-35 victory. With Aragon it was Brice Pearson leading the way to a 51-35 edge.

For the Indians only forward Rich Reitz has been able to hit with any regularity. He has been in two figures each game this season.

In the Wednesday Burlingame game the Indians never were in the contest as the Panthers led 24-10 at the half, and went on to win it even though outscored by Jeff 25-24 in the second half.

Playing at the Westmoor gym, and in front of a sparse gathering of not more than 100 fans, Jefferson couldn't get their offense rolling in the first half. John Peterson of the Panthers added to his 16 point league average by dropping in 18 points. And Wallace with his height and rebounding didn't help things either.

Burlingame's coach Rube Beltran summed up things after the game when he said, "Jefferson had to shoot over our tall boys and it threw them off stride."

The Indians tried to close it in the second half, but couldn't get closer than eight points.

For the lightweights things were much closer. It took a double overtime before the Panther juniors could edge Jefferson 44-40.

Jeff vs. Aragon

And it was the same story against Aragon. Brice Pearson and his six feet eight inches, aided by Rich Tietjen with 14 points led the Dons to a strong second half and the win, 51-35.

Thus the league's newest member, Aragon, defeated the league's oldest member, Jefferson.

The Indians stayed close for a while — trailing only 17-16 at the half and 28-25 after three periods — but in the last frame a 23-10 Don edge put it away.

One game out of the four was salvaged by the Indian B team as they posted a decisive 43-35 win.

This week the Indians face two of the league leaders. On Wednesday it's San Mateo in the Westmoor gym, and Friday night Westmoor at Westmoor.

It's SPARE TIME

at Westlake Bowl

By Jim Grealish

This has been the week for high games and series. Monday night in the 805 Scratch League found Ray Fisher with a 256 game and 630 series; Hank Della with a 255 game, Butch Davis with 252, Bob McCreerey with 245 and Dick Hayes led the 811 Scratch League with a 238 game and 620 series.

This became a little warmer on Tuesday night when six 600 series were registered in the American Masters 900 Scratch League. Tony Santos led the parade with a 661 series on games of 243-202-216. Two pins behind in series was Al Palmer, who had a 659 total on games of 223-203-234. With all three games over the 200 mark, Chris Perini registered a 641 series with games of 201-205-235. Fred Von Husen started with a 245 game then dropped slightly to post a 618 series, while Bob Laub shot 604 on a high game of 234 and Dick Truesdall's 603 series came on a high game of 208. In the 775 Scratch League, Ray Spina made everyone sit up and take notice with a 241 game en route to a 625 series.

Next Saturday at 2 p. m. marks the resumption of the Saturday Swiss Singles. After a two week layoff because so many contestants had qualified in a recent tournament, this popular event will be back on the weekly calendar. Many spectators have made it a point to be on hand to watch this four game event with scoring on the professional bowling league system.

Bob Elwell, in the Tuesday night Country Club Handicap, accomplished the "practically impossible" Tuesday night by converting the 8-10 split. Many bowlers have left these two pins but very few have ended with a spare after the second ball.

Last weekend was "Finals Time" at Westlake Bowl as Saturday afternoon and evening found 42 finalists in the tournament while Sunday found 64 finalists bowling in the San Francisco finals of the Bowlers Victory Legion.

Hal Cohen bowled a 215 final game in the B'nai B'rith League, but still fell three pins short of the coveted 600 mark.

The ladies took home their share of honors last week as Phyllis Winters had two-thirds of a terrific 202 triplicate but something happened in the third game. Diane Nessinger rolled a 175 game and a 485 series to be the leading lady in the Evening Stars League.

Many of the higher average women bowlers are preparing for the Northern California Bowling Proprietors Association Ladies Doubles Championships, which will be held at the Grand Lanes in Hayward on Feb. 17 and 18. Each girl will bowl 20 games with the top two teams receiving paid entries and round trip transportation to the national finals in Louisville, Ky.

Results of last week's Powder Puff Derby: Mary Lawson led in the Scratch division with a 513 series, followed by June Tarczy with a 467. In the Handicap division, Evelyn Keenan won with a 456-106—562, while second place went to Mary Wright with 425-132—557. The next Powder Puff Derby will be held on Monday, Jan. 22, at 1:15 p. m.

Westmoor Seniors Enroll In Gifted Student Program

Some especially capable senior students at Westmoor High School are again applying for the program with San Francisco State College permitting particularly gifted high school students to take college courses for credit while still enrolled in high school.

In October, 1960, Dr. John Ivan, curriculum director of the Jefferson Union High School District, and the deans of Westmoor High School met with Dean Don Gerth, director of admissions at San Francisco State College and representatives of the college faculty to discuss the program. Being pioneers in the state college program of early admission of capable high school seniors, the college sought and was granted approval for the program from Dr. Roy E. Simpson, director of education in the state. Last year, Westmoor High School and the San Francisco campus of the state colleges were the only participants in the program.

Having demonstrated academic ability, maturity and responsibility, ten senior students were recommended by the high school faculty and administration to undertake the program for this spring semester. Seven of these students then made formal aplication for admission to San Francisco State College. The students plan to enroll for a maximum of six units, or two courses, at San Francisco State College while completing their final semester of work toward thir high school diploma at Westmoor High School.

The students participating in the program are Carla Gomez, Anne McDonald, Janet Spears, Terry Boyle, Jo-Carole Sikorski, Lucinda McSweeney and Carlos Rivas.

Firemen Quell Kitchen Fire

Prompt action by Daly City firemen quelled a fire in the kitchen of the Trixie Beeson residence, Jan. 6, at 472 Irvington street.

The blaze started in the refrigerator in the ground floor apartment and was confined to the kitchen.

Policeman John Coleman stood by to assist. Trixie thanked the fireman after their quick trip.

Said she: "They were here in no time flat and put that fire out. I'm so thankful."

Air Pollution Gets New Men

Four additional air pollution inspectors will be hired for surveillance work by the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, according to action by the District Board at its regular monthly meeting at 1480 Mission street.

The new men will have a salary range of $481 to $584 per month, and may be hired by February 1, if qualified applicants are found. This brings the total number of inspectors to 7 for the six counties.

On the recommendation of its Personnel Committee, the Board also granted a salary increase to the non-clerical (technical) personnel. These employees have had no increase since July 1959, and the 5 per cent raise is intended to put the District into fair and competitive relationship to other governmental agencies and private enterprise.

Notice was also given that a change in the Administrative Code should be made to establish a consistent pay increase policy, and a yearly review of comparative positions on a state-wide basis.

The Board decided to recommend to the State Motor Vehicle Control Board that there be no limit on the number of qualified laboratories certified to test automobile control devices. The decision followed general discussion and expressions of opinion by several Board members that the automotive industry should assume greater responsibility for a speedy solution to the problem.

The next regular meeting will be February 7 at 10 a. m. at 1480 Mission Street.

State Ruling Given On Teacher Status

In an opinion affecteing several hundred California school districts and several thousand teachers, Attorney General Stanley Mosk ruled that teachers in school districts with 250 pupils or more who have completed three or more consecutive teaching years on June 30, 1962, and are contracted for the succeeding year will have permanent status.

Three counties and the Senate Fact Finding Committee on Education requested a clarification of a 1961 amendment to the Education Code extending tenure to teachers in districts with an average daily attendance of 250 or more. The act became effective Sept. 15, 1961. Whether service before that date was retroactively included was questioned.

Service prior to the amendment is allowed, states the attorney general's opinion, with the school board reserving the "opportunity to determine whether or not a particular teacher shall be given permanent status."

Sandwich Ideas

Space age sandwiches.

Teen time is eatin' time; before the game, after the game, before the dance, after the dance — and what fills that need better than sandwiches, particularly out of this world sandwiches if made on the new Wonder Soft Whipped bread, the bread with that smooth, smooth texture and no holes. You can do special things, like skewering them kabob style.

Each skewer can be made up either of all one kind of sandwich or a quarter of each of four or more different sandwiches.

Even olives and pickles add to the confusion and separate the quarters. With these they will want soft drinks that are really cold or real hot chocolate, crisp potato chips and hunks of cheddar cheese and other finger foods.

Here are some ideas for space age sandwich combinations:

1—Deviled ham, turkey, lettuce.

2—Corned beef, cabbage salad —thousand island dressing.

3—Sliced chicken, sliced tomato, cooked bacon strips; mayonnaise spread.

4—Sliced ham, Swiss cheese, mustard, butter.

5—Deviled ham, crisp cucumbers, butter mustard and horseradish spread.

6—Grilled bologna slices, mashed baked beans, catsup.

7—Sliced tongue, Swiss cheese, dill pickle slices, mustard butter.

8—Sliced chicken with cranberry sauce spread, deviled ham and tomato slices.

New Highway Signs

Calif. Motorists Get New Markers

Motorists will encounter two new types of signs on California's state highways within the next few months.

The new signs will use symbols to indicate courses of action to be taken by the driver. Studies have indicated that drivers generally understand and act on the symbols more rapidly than on written instructions, according to the Division of Highways.

Above, on the right, is the sign which will be used to indicate a decrease in the number of lanes (in this case from three lanes to two). On freeways, before they come upon this symbol, drivers will be alerted by a sign saying, "Lane Ends, Merge Left." Variations of this symbol will depend on the number of lanes involved and direction of the merging movement.

When going from divided highways to non-divided highways having fewer lanes, a sign saying "End Divided Road" will precede the symbol which will indicate which lane is to be dropped in order to accomplish the merger. The present multi-arrowed signs, which have been used on freeways to indicate a decrease in lanes ahead, and the lettered signs used on other state highways will be replaced as they wear out or are damaged.

On the left, above, is the sign which will be used in the future to indicate a winding road.

Just before the first turn of the winding road, a curve sign already in use will indicate the direction of the initial curve and usually the speed at which it can be safely taken. The new winding road sign will be located just beyond the first curve and will replace the present sign which spells out "Winding Road." The older signs will be replaced as they wear out or are damaged.

Both new signs have been recommended for use throughout the Nation by the National Joint Committee on Uniform Traffic Control Devices.

Goodwill Donations Can Be Deductible

Having a difficult time meeting your income tax?

Kenneth G. Foster, executive director of Goodwill Industries, has a suggestion that may save you money — next year.

The appraised value of any merchandise donated to Goodwill's efforts to create jobs for the handicapped may be deducted from your earnings.

The next time you contribute —as a benevolent ageny Goodwill is unique in that it does not ask the public for financial support — simply attach a note to your gift, or write Kenneth G. Foster, 986 Howard street, in San Francisco, requesting an acknowledgement for tax purposes. It's as simple as that.

Former 'Clubhouse' At Lincoln Park

ON WEDNESDAY, JAN. 10, Robert Estrada (left) and his brother Ricky Estrada took a drink at fountain beside old storage and restroom building at Lincoln Park, Acton and Brunswick streets. The building was removed the following day to make way for construction of new park clubhouse.

Engineer's Plan Of Park Shelter

PROPOSED PARK SHELTER for Lincoln Park will be constructed as vandal proof as possible, according to City Engineer William Chapman. The $30,000 project will be under construction in February and completed in April. It is the city's answer to requests from residents' in Old Daly City for more park facilities. The building will be constructed of cement block and will house two playrooms, kitchen office and toilet facilities.

New Clubhouse To Brighten Lincoln Park

Lincoln Park, at Brunswick and Acton streets, Daly City, has been an eyesore for several years, with rundown fences and broken asphalt.

But the construction of a new $30,000 clubhouse this spring will brighten up the area considerably, together with providing an additional recreational and meeting place for Daly City's expanding population.

Removal of old restroom and storage facilities and the uprooting of a portion of the playground will preceed the construction of the new 2,500 square foot building.

Bids on the construction will be received January 22 and awarded the same day. The job will take approximately 60 days to finish, according to city engineer William Chapman.

In early April the building will be finished.

Two large 24 x 30-ft. multipurpose rooms will provide meeting places for Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Easy walking distance from bus stops on Mission street makes the new clubhouse an ideal senior citizens' meeting place.

Recreation Director Charles Vincent said there is an overdemand now in Daly City for use of rooms for meetings. "It's sometimes impossible to find meeting space for a group that wants to use the recreation buildings," he added.

To prove his point he showed a chart listing the Westlake Clubhouse as all filled up—booked solid for Tuesday from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. The office, he said, gets calls for meetings booked through June.

The realization of a new clubhouse for Lincoln Park was partly due to the city council's efforts, coupled with a better financial picture for the city. Crocker Pershing PTA, headed by Mrs. Jack White, spearheaded a drive for the new building.

Development of Lincoln Park was part of Proposition 2 of the 1949 Daly City bond issue for new parks and playgrounds and development of existing ones. Proposition 1 on the same ballot was for the $295,000 War Memorial Building as a community center. The park bonds cost $101,000.

Money for the new clubhouse was requested last October by Parks and Recreation Director Charles Vincent. However, the clubhouse idea was proposed in 1959 by former recreation director Dee Van Nest in his three-year capital improvement program.

The new clubhouse will contain kitchen facilities for several hundred people. The large multi-use rooms will seat some 40 to 50 people each. City Engineer Chapman designed the building to be almost vandalproof.

Making Way For New Park Clubhouse

JACKHAMMER is put to work to remove swing and play post foundations in Lincoln Park to make way for construction of new $30,000 clubhouse and meeting rooms. The new 2500 square foot building is expected to be complete by early April, according to City Engineer William Chapman.

Old Park "Clubhouse" Gets The Heave Ho

ON THURSDAY, Jan. 11, Daly City maintenance carpenter Reginald Calvert (left) and utility man Henry F. Rendon tore down the building at Lincoln Park, long used as a storage room and restroom. They are shown here removed a wall panel from the building.
